

PREMIER KERENSKY ESCAPES FROM PETROGRAD

French and British Join the Italians

(International News Service.)

Rome, Nov. 9.—French and British troops have arrived at the Italian front. This welcomed information was revealed today in the announcement that Lloyd George and other British officials were at the front inspecting the allied reinforcements. The arrival of the allied troops strengthened the belief that the crucial battle is to be fought along the Piave river, where along the west bank combined formations with the new arrivals is possible through the delayed arrival of the enemy. The official announcement says that the fighting now extends over a front of less than 30 miles and that several bridges over the Livenza river have been blown up. This announcement convinces military experts that the bulk of the German forces has not crossed the river.

Lawrence County Man Gets Wrong Sentence and Seeks Release

Montgomery, Nov. 9.—J. F. Bailey, of Leighton, convicted of operating a gaming table in Colbert county and sentenced to six months in the penitentiary, entered habeas corpus proceedings in the circuit court Wednesday seeking his release on the ground that the law does not permit the sentencing of any man to the penitentiary for less than one year and one day and that his sentence is void. Judge Gaston Gunter took the case under advisement until Thursday.

When Bailey was brought to the concentration prison the convict department refused to accept him, having discovered the court's error. Judge A. H. Alston attempted to correct the sentence by changing it to hard labor without formally opening the court again. Judge Gunter ruled that this sentence, too, was illegal. Bailey has employed a Montgomery attorney to represent him.

U. S. War Mission To See British

(International News Service.)
London, Nov. 9.—Members of the American war mission in completing their work today preparatory to the allied war council at Paris have arranged for a series of conferences with British officials. Members of the American mission are much interested in ship yard activities.

May Move Cattle From Dry Territory

(International News Service.)
Atlanta, Nov. 9.—Traffic managers of southeastern and southwestern railroads are in session here today to consider the advisability of inaugurating an emergency rate to facilitate the movement of 200,000 cattle from the drought section of the southwest to the fields east of the Mississippi. Unless such a rate is established there is grave danger that the cattle will perish.

Program by Amateur Cast Pleases Immense Audience at the Masonic

Fall Festival Does Record Business, With Standing Room All Sold Out. A Pleasing Production

An immense audience that filled the Masonic theatre to capacity, upstairs and down, last night witnessed the production of the Fall Festival by the Music Study club. By 8 o'clock the auditorium of the theatre was overflowing, and from that time on the crowds were directed to the balcony and gallery and when these were filled many stood in the aisles. There were no reserved seats and the throngs came early.

Beginning with a chorus by the Music Study club, the program ran a gamut of varied entertainment, concluding with a final chorus by the club, personally directed by Mrs. W. R. Shelton, president of the organization, who artistically waved a silver-mounted baton from an elevated position in the orchestra pit.

The program consisted of drills by

More Money For Kentucky Miners

(International News Service.)
Lexington, Nov. 9.—Miners in the coal fields of eastern Kentucky can make as high as $10 per day as the result of wage increases today of virtually every mine in the district. Wages of ordinary laborers will be increased from $3.50 to $4.00 per day.

America Reposes Upon Dynamite

German Spy System Said to Reach
Into Every City of Nation.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 9.—The German spy system in the United States is spreading. Its agents are at work in every city and town in the country. The rural districts have not been neglected and the shadow of the imperial German throne is over every section. Officials of the department of justice and of the military establishment are alive to the gravity of the situation. America, they declare, complacently reposes upon dynamite.

New and rigid measures are now in process of development designed to check any further spread of the German spy system and stamp it out. The restrictions governing the activities of enemy agents in this country are to be tightened.

Alcedo Victims Are Given Up For Lost

Lieut. Melvin and Twenty Men Believed Killed by Exploding Torpedo.

Washington, Nov. 9.—All hope for the safety of Lieut. John T. Melvin and the 20 enlisted men, reported missing after the torpedoing of the American patrol ship Alcedo, has been abandoned. Vice Admiral Sims cabled the navy department today that the search for survivors of the Alcedo had been given up, and that it was believed most of the missing men had been killed outright by the explosion of the torpedo.

Secretary Daniels authorized this statement: "The navy department has received a report from Vice Admiral Sims stating that no trace had been found of the one officer and 20 men reported missing after the sinking of the American patrol vessel Alcedo. Several vessels which were searching for possible survivors have given up the search. It is believed that most of the missing men were killed by the explosion of the torpedo."

The Alcedo, a converted yacht, was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine early Monday morning, being the first American warship to go down since the war began. No details have been made public.

Death Comes to Frank Warrick

Frank Warrick, aged 77 years, died this morning shortly after 8 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Chas. Rognon, at Austinville. Mr. Warrick was a highly esteemed citizen and his death will be mourned by many friends.

Surviving children are two sons, George Warrick, of Albany, and Monroe Warrick, of Panama, and two daughters, Mrs. Pink Phillips, of Sheffield, and Mrs. Grover Seitz, of Pikeville, Tenn.

The remains were conveyed to the home of George Warrick, on Third avenue, west, from which the funeral services will be conducted.

Alabama Protests Vanderbilt Player

Nashville, Nov. 9.—Herman Davies, tackle on the Vanderbilt football eleven, was protested by the University of Alabama and will not play in the game between the two institutions in Birmingham Saturday. The claim of ineligibility was based upon a rule passed since Davies left Vanderbilt with his college course unfinished five years ago. The Vanderbilt team, 20 strong left last night for Birmingham.

SYNOD JUST HELD MOST INSPIRING IN RECENT YEARS

ITS PROCEEDINGS THROUGHOUT
WERE MARKED BY A DOMINANT
NOTE OF PATRIOTISM.

(By H. L. TURNER.)

Athens, Ala., Nov. 9.—During the closing hours of the Alabama Synod of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., this statement could be heard on every hand that "This was one of the most helpful and inspiring Synods that we have had in years." It was the pleasure of Synod as well as the people of Athens to listen to two eloquent addresses on Presbyterian Responsibility and Our Resources of Meeting this Responsibility, by Rev. C. H. French, D. D. LL. D., president of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., and Rev. J. M. Broady, D. D., the moderator and pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, Birmingham.

The committee on Home Missions, through its chairman, Rev. F. L. Wear, D. D., of Huntsville, presented the task of our church in these days of peril. Dr. Wear said: "There was never an age in the history of the world in which the spirit of sacrifice was more universal. In Europe blood and treasure have been poured out without stint. Manhood and womanhood have been laid upon the altar of liberty and freedom in unparalleled measure. We ourselves have to share that spirit. Already call after call has come and has not found us unwilling or unready to make the sacrifice. The first draft on our manhood has been made, doubtless another, and yet another will be made. Our womanhood early responded to the call for service and will vie with our men in the spirit of devotion. We must and we will match the sacrifice of Europe in the struggle for human liberty. But our duty does not cease when we have made great sacrifices for our country and have prepared our hearts for the burden of war. We are engaged in just as important, though less spectacular, contest. We owe as much to God as we do to Caesar; to the government of Christ, as to the government of the United States."

Rev. W. L. Darby, D. D., home mission superintendent, speaking on this subject said: "It is a call to mobilize for God and country." The Presbyterian board of home missions joins the ranks in response to President Wilson's ringing call, said Dr. Darby. In a recent address of President Wilson he said: "This is your opportunity for signal service, efficient and disinterested." The superintendent emphasized the importance of our churches and people getting under this task as never before.

Dr. Broady presented his report on Christian life and work, which showed that in the church at large we received on confession last year 96,793 members, also other important gains were mentioned.

Suffrage Pickets Break Long Fast

Miss Alice Paul Has Liquid Diet Doubt As to Whether Feeding Was Forced.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Miss Alice Paul, head of the woman's party, and Miss Rose Winslow, hunger striking in the district jail hospital, were fed late Thursday by the jail authorities. Liquid food was given them through rubber tubes, breaking a fast of something over 72 hours.

Whether force was employed may be always a matter of dispute. Dr. J. A. Gannon, the jail physician, said it was not and that both women took the nourishment without protest. At the woman's party headquarters, however, it was indignantly asserted that such a thing was impossible. The women pointed to Miss Paul's record some years ago at Holloway jail, London, saying she endured tortures through forcible feeding. She was then an aide to Mrs. Pankhurst.

Miss Paul and Miss Winslow, who are serving terms for so-called picketing of the White House, went on their strike in an effort to compel the jail officers to provide for their fellow pickets the same special food—eggs and milk—given them when they were transferred to the hospital section. They insist that even murderers in the jail are permitted to make purchases on the outside to supplement their prison fare and that only the suffragists of all the prisoners are denied this privilege.

Dr. Gannon called in several other physicians to examine the strikers and give their opinion as to the necessity for forcible feeding. It was agreed that both women were in such a condition that they must be fed.

Useful and Good Man Dies at Vinemont

Following an illness of several years, W. A. Martin died last night at Vinemont, aged 74 years. For many years he was a resident of these cities, a most useful and esteemed citizen and a member of the Central Methodist church. Funeral services will take place at Vinemont and remains will arrive here tomorrow morning at 9:55. Interment at City cemetery. The remains will be taken from the train to the cemetery. Deceased is survived by following sons and daughters: Mrs. Geo. Warrick and Ben F. Martin of these cities; Mrs. C. L. McKennon, of Zanesville, O., and J. J. Martin, of Vinemont.

RUSSIAN LEADER HURRIES TO BATTLE FRONT FOR HELP

May Open Headquarters at Moscow and Receive Backing From Army

NO MORE MONEY FOR THE RUSSIANS

Triumph of Radicals Was Foreseen and Will Be Discussed at Inter-Allied Conference
On November Fifteenth

(International News Service.)

London, Nov. 9.—Russia may yet be saved. Hope that the new republic still will be a factor in the war on the side of the allies was held out here today when it was definitely established that Premier Kerensky had made his escape from Petrograd. Kerensky is believed to be on his way to the front. Close students of Russian affairs here believe that he will be able to swing the majority of the troops to his side. The Cossack troops at the front, the best fighters of the Russian army, are almost certain to line up with the premier if he will pledge that no attempt will be made to conciliate the extremists but they will be dealt with in a vigorous manner.

There is some ground for belief, it was asserted here today, that Kerensky may affect a compromise with Gen. Korniloff, deposed war minister, who is awaiting trial now because of his attempt to wrest control of the army from Kerensky. It was pointed out here that should Korniloff join forces with Kerensky the troops are much more likely to side with the premier. If Kerensky succeeds at the front, it is believed that he will take steps to establish a provisional government in Moscow.

Dispatches today from Petrograd indicated that there was considerable loss of life before the Maximilists gained complete control of the capital. The Woman's Battalion of Death fought heroically to save the winter palace from capture. It was not until after they had been bombarded by the cruiser Aurora and the guns of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul that the women soldiers surrendered.

(International News Service.)

Rome, Nov. 9.—Gen. Cadorna's army today occupies the most naturally and best fortified regions since the beginning of its retreat through the Friuli plains. The battle line is shorter, with many railroads at the Italian leader's command.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Cadorna army is valiantly and effectively delaying the advance of the enemy, according to official dispatches today from Rome. The general impression in the Italian capital is that the coming war operations on the Italian front must be viewed with confidence. The withdrawal of the army from the Tagliamento river was directed by General Digioria, a distinguished military leader and by some units of the third army. The withdrawal continues under the protection of these troops.

(International News Service.)

London, Nov. 9.—Conflicting reports reached here today on Premier Kerensky. One report, from German origin, said that the premier had been captured by forces in sympathy with the Maximilists and that he would be taken to Petrograd. Another report stated that Kerensky had reached Moscow.

WASHINGTON IS HOPEFUL OF RUSSIAN OUTCOME.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 9.—While the Russian situation is most grave, officials here decline to see any particular disaster in the recent turn of events in which revolutionists overthrew the provisional government at Petrograd. Every contingency in Russia had been arranged for the allies and this was one of the reasons for the inter-allied conference which will be begun on the fifteenth of this month.

According to unofficial information, the revolt at Petrograd appears to have been a complete success. With Premier Kerensky in flight and several of his cabinet members in prison, the city is in possession of Lenine.

Beautiful Swan Killed on River

A beautiful white swan, measuring seven feet and three inches from tip to tip of its wings, was killed on the Tennessee river to day, near the mouth of Flint creek by John Montgomery, a colored hunter.

The bird is the only one of its kind seen on the river, and sportsmen are unable to account for its visit to this section. It was spotless white in its coloring with the exception of beak and feet, which were black.

Post Office Receipts Increase Despite Higher Rate Charged

The government may derive a far greater revenue from the increased rates on postage than anticipated if all offices show as great an increase as the Albany postoffice since the new rates were effective Nov. 2.

The Christmas rush is expected to start at the Twin City postoffices shortly and already a large number of packages have been mailed to the American soldiers on the firing line. The last date for mailing packages up to 7 pounds in weight is Nov. 15, while the last date for mailing packages up to 20 pounds in weight is December 1. This difference in date is due to the fact that packages of the former class are carried by one mode of transportation and packages of the latter class by another plan.

RUSSIA IS PASSING THROUGH ANOTHER CRISIS.

That big child of a nation, Russia, is again in the throes of revolution. Premier Kerensky, so far as press dispatches throw any light on the internal affairs of the republic, has been overthrown and the extreme radicals, clamorous for a dishonorable peace, are in the saddle. This was the news of yesterday. The news of tomorrow may carry a different tale, as the kaleidoscope is no more susceptible to change than the groping peasants of a country that was once ruled by autocrats only.

It is too early to count Russia out of the war. Petrograd at most is but a small part of what was once an empire and which now is a nation without stable government. Sentiment that prevails at the capital may be quite contrary to that of the fighting front. The army, nondescript and leaderless though it is, may not yet be ready to succumb to the wiles of the German intriguers. The substantial, sober element of the population may have another dream than for Russia to be merely a vassal of Prussia. That, at least, is the opinion of the Russian ambassador to the United States, who is in position to know something of conditions at home.

The big argument why Russia should remain in the war, whether it appeals to benumbed intellects and traitorous hearts or not, is that its own preservation demands it. A dismembered Poland, shaming the heroism of its Kosciuskos, is an object lesson in Teuton magnanimity. If any were needed. Surely there will yet arise a "strong man of the North" as the fulfillment of Tolstoy's vision, who can mould together the disorganized fragments of a broken nation into a real fighting force capable of commanding the respect of the world.

ADVERTISING MERCHANTS ARE REAL CITY BUILDERS.

It is not often that the public gives to the merchant who advertises full credit for the part that he plays in building the city in which he does business. The average person is inclined to the belief that the man who goes out and gets business does so purely for his personal reward and that he has no higher object in view. Yet the contrary is often the rule. It is ambition, patriotism, the love of progress that causes many a potential merchant prince to keep on reaching out when he already has sufficient of this world's goods on which to live comfortably. Printer's ink is the golden medium that draws trade from a surrounding territory, that builds cities larger and larger. Advertising is the modern art of stimulating commerce by bringing the buyer and seller together. The merchant whose display advertising of today brings trade up-town and into town for tomorrow, is of more value to his town than the one who is content to sit outside his door and snatch a remnant of the business that comes his way. There are drones in every hive. They are not builders, only destroyers. The advertising merchant is never a drone.

THE BUMPER CORN CROP AND "WAR BREAD."

A certain highly respected minister of the gospel who resides within the confines of Morgan county is doing his "bit" to help win the war by daily eating "war bread," the basic and constituent elements of which are meal and flour in "fifty-fifty" proportion. He dilutes every pancake, every biscuit with an amount of corn meal equal to the flour. In this way, should his example be followed in every household, the wheat supply of America would go just twice as far as it will if every owner of an appetite indulges in flour bread at the former rate of consumption.

The crop reporting board of the Department of Agriculture yesterday estimated the corn crop of the United States at 3,191,083,000 bushels. This is the nation's bumper production of corn. It insures America against want. If "war bread" becomes the rule rather than the exception, this bountiful yield of maize will do much to solve the food problem of the allies.

THE GERMAN LETTER CARRIER.

"The first prisoner to be taken by the American forces in France was a German mail carrier who had lost his way in the maze of trenches of No-Man's Land, and was an easy capture for the watchful American soldier. When he failed to stop at the command of a sentry he was fired on. He died at an American base hospital."

From a recent news item in American newspapers.

And so the pages of history in after years will show that the first German to come face to face with American bullets in the grim business across the seas was not a helmeted fighting man, nor yet an officer of the kultur caste, but a simple Bavarian peasant boy whose duty it was to distribute precious letters from home to the war-weary and disillusioned German troops in the first line trenches.

What a splendid tribute it is for the whole fraternity of letter carriers throughout the world that one of their number was the first to fall when America threw the weight of her hand on the scales of war in behalf of world democracy. In war and peace these winged-Mercuries of the governments toil about hither and thither with their work. Always on duty, rain or shine, for Uncle Sam, the Kaiser, John Bull and the rest of the nations of earth, the letter carriers are the embodiment of faithful service.

Do your "Sammy" Christmas shopping early. The mails close on Nov. 15.

The Making of a Soldier of the Seas

By RICHARD BOEKEL, Written for the International News Service

A Marine Corps Cantonment, Nov. 9.—"Why we didn't take it originally the Lord only knows—and He isn't telling. But we've got it now and we'll make good use of it when we get over."

A marine corps commander was speaking of the Lewis machine gun. Before the outbreak of the great war the gun was offered to the war department by its inventor, a retired army officer. It was rejected. In 1914 the gun was taken up by the English army. Hundreds of thousands of them were turned out. Today expert observers say the Lewis gun is winning the war.

In spite of its success on the western front the gun was rejected again and again by the war department on new tests, until the controversy over it assumed the proportions of a scandal. Competent officers of the ordnance department of the army gave weighty opinions, explaining exactly why the gun was not acceptable. Secretary Baker subscribed to those opinions and thought the controversy was ended.

Then suddenly the war cloud appeared. Secretary of the Navy Daniels placed an order for a very large number of Lewis guns in spite of the war department's condemnation. Today the marine corps is fully equipped with Lewis guns. The army is, in the words of its officers, literally "crying for them." And they are being turned out just as fast as the Savage Arms Company can make them.

"Statistics show that 92 per cent of the casualties in this war are caused by machine guns," the commander of a marine corps machine gun company said today. "On these figures it is safe to say that the side with the most machine guns is the side that will win the war. At the beginning the allies were far behind. Germany was well equipped and the casualties resulted from the unpreparedness of England and France during the early months of the war were frightful."

"Those countries have been making machine guns just as fast as they could be made ever since and the United States is taking their good example. Than the Lewis gun no better weapon has been found. My company is entirely equipped with them and we expect to do some considerable damage when we set about it over there."

The Lewis gun looks most unwieldy. It is like a rifle with a stove pipe fitted over the barrel. The regular army rifle weighs nine pounds. The Lewis gun weighs twenty-seven pounds. The simplicity of the gun is amazing.

There is one corporal in a machine gun squad in training here who can take his gun all apart and put it together blindfolded in four minutes. The average for the entire company is ten minutes. No elaborate tools are required to repair the gun. The only tool needed is a cartridge. The gun seldom jams, and when it does it is easily fixed.

"It doesn't take a watchmaker to repair it, neither does it take a water barrel to cool it," said a machine gun officer. "The gun works for the most part automatically. It is air cooled and the mechanism is worked by the gas generated by the exploding cartridge. Give all other machine guns to the Germans and leave the Lewis gun for us. I'm willing to match my company with Lewis guns against any other type and guarantee we'll come out on top."

"THE ETERNAL SIN"

MASONIC THEATRE TONIGHT.
Herbert Brenon, who produced "A Daughter of the Gods," "Neptune's Daughter," and many other magnificent pictures, has just completed his second picture for Selznick Picture Co., "The Eternal Sin," with the brilliant young American star, Florence Reed, in the leading role. The screen version of Hugo's drama has been produced on a scale typical of all Brenon productions. This great spectacle will be shown at the Masonic theatre tonight and Saturday night, with two performances nightly.

Delite and Star Today, "The Price of Silence," introducing Vivian Rich, Charming New Fox Actress.
Vivian Rich, who plays opposite

William Farnum in the new William Fox production, "The Price of Silence," is a new bright spot in the Fox heavens. Those who wonder where she got her rare beauty and charm must be satisfied with this: She was born in the South and educated in the North.

After graduating from a Boston school, Miss Rich began her theatrical career as a member of a stock company. Later she played on Broadway as a member of the "Country Girl" company. Miss Rich's first flash in filmdom was with the original Nestor Company. From that concern she went with the American and played in the "Gentle Conspiracy," "Quicksands of Deceit" and "Little Troubador."

She makes her debut in the Fox forces as Grace, the daughter of Judge Vernon, playing opposite to William Farnum in "The Price of Silence." This role gives her an excellent opportunity to show her dramatic powers. She is wooed by three men, a senator, a wealthy and powerful politician, and a young doctor. Through a tear-compelling combination of circumstances, the senator, an admirable type of man, renounces her. The politician, whose one redeeming trait is his love for Grace, never had a place in the young girl's heart. It is the young doctor who triumphs in the strife for her affections.

ANSWERS THE PURPOSE.

Mrs. Flitte—Is your milk pasteurized?
Mr. Grassneck—Not the milk, ma'am. But one o' the cows is pasteurized out in that clearin'. The other'n is still-fed.

She has beauty and health. She has culture and position. But she's still a spinster. Because she has a mission.

Strenuous Training.
"But are you strong enough to handle heavy trunks?" asked the hotel manager of the lightweight applicant for a job as porter.
"Sure thing," answered the applicant. "My best girl agitates the scales at the 225-pound notch."

IT'S WORTH MORE THAN $1,000 TO HER SAYS MRS. REESE

"I HAVEN'T BEEN ENTIRELY WELL BEFORE IN FIFTEEN YEARS," SHE SAYS.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars cash for the good Tanlac has done me," said Mrs. Lula Reese, who resides at 1559 Hicks street, Augusta, Georgia.

"It may sound strange, but I had suffered with stomach trouble, rheumatism and neuralgia until I got to the place where I felt like I didn't care whether I lived or died. Everything I ate soured on my stomach and made trouble for me and in addition to the rheumatism, I fell and broke my arm and it seemed like my other troubles kept it from healing up like it ought to. I just lived in misery all the time and couldn't get any relief.

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac, and it's surprising the way I have improved, considering that I haven't been entirely well before in fifteen years. The rheumatism and soreness is gone from my arm; my stomach is alright and I can eat anything I want and digest it. I have gained some in weight; am able to do my work and feel good all the time. I want everybody to know what Tanlac did for me."

Tanlac is sold in Albany by Preuit-Dillehay Drug Co., and by one regular established agency in every town. (Adv.)

Russian Leader Hurries to Battle

and his followers, and it is believed that great disorder reigns throughout the city. On the other hand, officials here, while admitting that the extreme radical socialists are in great numbers throughout Russia, believe that the great majority of the Russian people are loyal to the cause of democracy and that the extremists will be suppressed before any great amount of damage can be done to the allied cause. The absence of official information adds to the gravity of the situation, because it is feared that the capture of the city has been absolutely complete and that communication between Petrograd and the outside world has been entirely cut off. But great hope is taken in the belief that Kerensky has made good his escape and that he has fled to Moscow, where he will be able to concentrate his loyal troops and make a determined stand against counter-revolutionists, should Lenin and his followers gain and hold supremacy of the situation.

Officials here say that representatives of the allies who will gather in conference within a week to discuss the war from every conceivable angle will be able to devise means by which the unsettled conditions in Russia will render as little strength to Germany as such a situation would be ordinarily given.

NO MORE MONEY WILL BE ADVANCED RUSSIANS.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 9.—While the present turmoil continues it is unlikely that the United States will advance any more money to Russia, officials today said. Credits previously extended and which have not been exhausted by purchases made here also will be held up. The money heretofore advanced was given to the Kerensky organization. Now that it has been overthrown there is no disposition on the part of the United States to furnish any additional funds that might eventually find their way into the hands of Germany. It is understood here that in any action along this line the United States will have the co-operation of Japan. Most of Russia's supplies, at the present time, are being sent from Japan and practically unlimited credits have been given the Russians by the Japanese. This will be stopped for the present.

JAP SAYS RUSSIA

(International News Service.)
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Maximist control of Russia is only temporary and a constitutional government will be restored shortly whether Kerensky is at its head or not, in the opinion of Baron Anetaro Megata, head of the special Japanese finance commission which arrived in Chicago today. "The government will, I am confident, be restored," said Megata, "and it will be the real Russia, the government of the masses which have been loyal to Kerensky."

NEGRO SOLDIERS IN NEAR RIOT

BLACKS RUN AMUCK AT MONTGOMERY WHEN THEY HEAR TALK OF LYNCHING.

(International News Service.)

Montgomery, Nov. 9.—Col. S. E. Stansbery's military police, with the determined aid of Maj. John B. Fulton, commander of the Tenth Battalion, colored, last night prevented trouble when some colored soldiers became excited over reports that one of their men had been captured and was being taken out to be lynched. For a time it looked as if there was danger of a race riot, but the military authorities took the situation well in hand and this morning everything was quiet. During the trouble the car of E. C. Ramage was held up by colored soldiers and searched.

The trouble followed quickly upon the heels of an accident in which a negro chauffeur ran down a white woman on Commerce street, in the center of the business part of the city.

Negro troops who were on the streets heard that a comrade had been spirited away, and hastily formed a party of about 150 men for the avowed purpose of rescuing him. They started in the direction of the automobile was reported to have gone, and were reported to have swept the sidewalks clean of women and children in the residence section as they went on their way.

Military police, immediately upon hearing of the trouble, followed the negro soldiers in police patrols, and succeeded in overtaking and placing about 35 of them under arrest. This action, for a time, threatened to precipitate further trouble, when Major Caldwell, negro commander, according to police reports, declined to order negro troops off the streets, asserting they had a right to walk the streets as American citizens. He finally was prevailed upon, however, to round up his men and send them to camp. Orders were then issued to place a guard around the negro camp with instructions that no member should be allowed to either enter or depart without giving a full account of himself.

A party of negro troops that occupied two automobiles stopped Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ramage, white, who were headed for the city in another machine, and forced them to alight in order that the negroes might search their automobile. Ramage reported to the police that the negroes abused himself and wife after the search and then proceeded on their way.

Major Caldwell, commander of the Ninth separate battalion, later went in search of his men. About four miles from the city he telephoned a report that he had gotten a description of automobiles some of his men occupied and that he would continue the search for them. It was said they had gone in the direction of Tuskegee.

SINGING IS LOST ART TODAY

In This Age It Is Largely Confined to the Professional Performers, Even in the Churches.

Singing, as far as most people are concerned, is a lost art. Thousands attend operas, recitals and musical comedies, but, as for singing themselves informally at their work or play, they have forgotten how. In times past people of all ranks sang together as a matter of course. Sailors sang at their work; peasants, shepherds, cowboys, all had their favorite and appropriate songs. The songs of children at games, the lullabies of mothers, are in the collected ballads and folklore of many peoples.

"The pastimes and labors of the husbandman and the shepherd," says Andrew Lang, according to the Indianapolis News, "were long ago a kind of natural opera. Each task had its own song; planting, seeding, harvesting, burial, all had their appropriate ballads or dirges.

"The whole soul of the peasant class reathes in its burdens as the great sea reathes in the shell mast up on the shore."

Nowadays the whirl of machinery makes all the noise. The workers in mills might find it unsatisfying to sing at their work, but it is doubtful if they could sing even if their voices could be heard, while singing in an office or store would pretty surely be stopped by the "boss" or the police. Thousands congregate every night in the silence of moving picture theaters, and even in the churches where singing by the congregation used to be customary, the attendants now usually listen in silence to a paid singer.

Singing in this age is largely confined to the professional performer.

that Lenin, leader of the Maximists, is a German agent was received here today in a dispatch from Amsterdam, which quoted the Cologne Gazette as saying that "the appeal of Lenin, the radical socialist leader, will greatly influence the Russian people, but Germany might not entertain too great hopes."

This dispatch proves that Germany knows just what Lenin will do and that he will aid Germany.

GETTING THE AIR IN ALASKA

People of Far North Do Not Warm Up to Idea of the Open Window, Declares Writer.

Live!
Keep alive!
Imbibe the ozone!
Wash the blood in oxygen. Rebuild the tissues of the human machine. Get up in the morning feeling good. Why stupefy when oxygen is the most abundant and widely distributed element of earth and so essential to the human animal?

Dawson revels today in the splendor of the midnight sun, says the Dawson (Yukon) News. Balm and the vigor of youth are in every breath of fresh air. The open air of this halcyon climate is an ocean for bodily nourishment.

These facts are patent. They need no substantiation to anyone with half an optic. And yet how many there are in this salubrious realm who court stupidity by sleeping in stuffy, box-tight rooms—in fetid and impoverished air which is poison rather than food to the system.

Cruise the streets of Dawson after midnight in this glorious midsummer period. Note how few windows or sleeping rooms are open; how few are inviting the currents of stimulating air; and how many actually have the windows down tight, and not even a knothole open large enough to let in air for a microbe.

A small percentage will be noticed sleeping with the windows open, and a very few have plunged right into the open and sleep in coats on porches or in tents. These know the joy of lungs well filled with life-giving element throughout the hours of sleep, and feel the tingle of new life and the buoyancy of youth when they awaken. They do not drag themselves from their pillows. They bound out like you did when a boy. That's what all can do who otherwise are blessed in limb and form.

Get the idea. Open the doors. Throw up the windows, or move out under the heavens. Breathe and live.

Poisoning in Munition Plants.

The industrial intoxications arising from the making of war munitions open a quite new field of study. Alice Hamilton, in her investigation among 30,000 workers in 41 plants, found that the real cause of illness was recognized by few even among the factory physicians, but there was evidence of poisoning in 2,508 cases, of which 53 resulted fatally. The most harmful materials were nitrogen oxide fumes and trinitrotoluene, which, with benzene, caused all but three of the fatal poisonings. Among other injurious substances are included nitrobenzene, toluene, phenol, ether, mixed acids, sulphuric acid, picric acid, fulminate, ammonium, mercury, nitroacetaldehydes and chlorine, but these are not likely to produce serious results.

Girls as Ticket Collectors.

The employment of girls as ticket collectors in Britain has led one or two men to endeavor to travel without paying a fare. Such an one was recently charged at Ware. Giving evidence, a girl collector said she refused to allow the accused to pass because he had not a ticket. He swore at her, took her by the collar, and tried to push past. The Clerk—"What happened?"—"I just took hold of him and deposited him outside. He looked surprised," was the girl's calm reply amid the laughter of the court.

An Inexpensive Small Home

Nothing useless or ornamental, yet this home will appeal to those desiring a very inexpensive home. The pressed brick column and front porch parapet wall with its stone cap and coping gives it a tone of individuality. The question of ventilation is settled, as each room is provided with three to four windows.

The interior arrangement affords comfort and convenience; one unusual feature for a small home being a hall which connects the living room, dining room, kitchen and bath, making each room private.

All labor-saving devices are provided in the kitchen. A modern, attractive small home for little cost.

WHEN you wish to furnish your new home, don't fail to call and inspect our twenty three furnished rooms on SECOND FLOOR. You may find valuable suggestions here.

Does Renting Pay?

First we will take the man who is paying $15.00 per month. We figure ten years because there is any number of men in Albany and Decatur who have been renting that long.

Twelve months rent at $15.00 is$ 180.00

Ten years' rent at $180.00 is$1,800.00

What have you to show for it? (Wait until you miss a month.) A big sign hung on the door—"FOR RENT," by some real estate man or an individual who just had a little more nerve than you had ten years ago.

You have rented ten years and paid for a house and lot which is still there—so are you, and still paying $15.00 per month to get to stay.

Let us explain our Monthly Payment Plan and help you to be the owner of a HOME, not a PLACE.

Keep the Home Fires Burning

Keep the home fires burning, is the message heralded throughout our land.

Keep the home fires burning comes as an echo from across the seas. Echoing from a barren waste, where the god of war in his wrath has laid his bloody hand upon the once happy homes, thriving cities and prosperous countries.

We must keep the home fires burning—lending encouragement to those who have responded to the call of universal democracy, called to defend national honor and avenge the wrongs which have been heaped upon innocent and helpless non-combatants.

This is a home building period; a time when the thoughts of men should turn to the starting point of liberty and freedom—the home.

Every man should strive as never before to provide a permanent shelter for his loved ones. Every wife and mother should resolve from this day on that their one hope and ambition will be to keep the home fires burning 'neath their own roof.

Build now—plan ahead to take care of your family. Preserve the integrity of our nation through the influences of home and home life.

Keep the home fires burning brightly with the love of country, freedom, and universal peace, so that its reflection mirrored in the heavenly skies will light the way for victory to the forces of our great government.

Have you a home fire burning brightly?

Everything in Hardware for Builders

It is the most important to select the best hardware for that new home or building.

That brings you here, for we make a point of carrying nothing but the best builder's hardware that adds not only to the beauty of a building but to its selling value as well.

The Sash and door Locks, Hinges, Etc., are a very small part of a building, but will repay many times for the cost and trouble of proper selection. Cheap goods are a continual source of trouble and worry.

We are prepared to name interesting prices on the complete hardware for any style of building from the humble cottage to the largest office building.

Yes sir! We also sell the best building Tools—all moderately priced.

WINTER GRAZING FOR HOGS

By J. C. Ford, Field Agent for Pig Clubs.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala. Since hogs are bringing the highest prices they have brought in fifty years, and since the state is overflowing with feedstuffs, Alabama farmers should give the best of care to their hogs this winter, especially to their brood sows and fall litters.

Some feedstuffs are as high priced relatively as hogs. This is especially true of corn and peanuts. Even at the present price of hogs, they will not make money when fed for very long on corn as the only feed. In order to make money out of hogs, it is necessary that a good part of their feed come from some cheap source. One of the most profitable sources for a good part of the hogs' ration is green feed which the hogs harvest themselves.

The experiment stations and successful farmers have found that such winter-growing crops as rape, rye, oats and barley will very successfully make up from half to three-fourths of the ration of sows and pigs and young, growing stuff and from one-fourth to one-third that of fattening hogs. It is a very bad policy, however, to force any kind of hogs to live entirely on such feed as they cannot eat enough of it to do well.

It is now too late for the fall seeding of rape in Alabama. Oats seeded after October 15th in North Alabama will not give much grazing all toward spring. Rye will do better for late planting than oats. Barley does best if seeded after the weather gets a little cool. Barley and rye are hard to kill by freezing.

Rape is not very safe for central Alabama if seeded after October 15th, but rye will do well and oats will furnish considerable grazing of the weather is not too cold. In extreme south Alabama, any of these crops may be planted as late as December 1st, but will be more valuable if planted earlier.

Rape will furnish about two or two and one-half times as much grazing as any of the other crops mentioned. On fairly rich land an acre of rape will usually furnish plenty of grazing for a litter of six fall pigs throughout the winter. If the winter is mild it will do still better. Another half acre will take care of the sow.

The regular grain crop of oats, rye and wheat can be grazed during the winter by light hogs without material injury. They need to be taken off by February 1st, or earlier in the southern part of the state and by March 1st, or earlier in the Tennessee Valley.

Fall pigs should be made ready for market by April, May or June. Use enough grain during the last six or eight weeks to make them fat.

Program by Amateur Cast Pleases Immense

a violin solo by Miss Alice Hatton, with piano accompaniment by Miss Sheppard. Solo parts in the choruses were carried by Miss Katie Reece, Mrs. H. A. King, Mrs. Poynter, Miss Hicks, Miss Marie Kimbrough and others.

In the "Soldier's Dream," Adj. Robt. Sheppard, of the Home Guards, and Miss Mary Penick sang the solo parts, while in the opening chorus these parts were carried by Misses Hicks, Kimbrough and Ione Clark.

"Over There," the popular war song, was sung by a well-drilled chorus, composed of Misses Daphne Graves, Evelyn Blackwell, Mary Penick, Marie Kimbrough, Jean Buchanan and Baynard Malone, Jr., Morgan Vesper, George Todd, Roy Buchanan, Thos. Hatton, Erskine Chenault.

Throughout the evening, delightful music was rendered by an orchestra composed of W. W. Rahm, Mrs. Herman Troup, Miss Sue Sheppard, Miss Alice Hatton, Herman Safley, Baxter Hartung and Adlai Spain.

Announcements were made by A. G. Patterson, dressed as Uncle Sam.

The program as a whole was given with all the ease and grace that would have been expected of a professional cast. Especially hearty encores were given the readings by Miss Todd and Miss Johnson and the vocal number by Miss Hicks.

The "Legend of Bregenz" told in solo and chorus by the Music Study Club was a masterpiece in choral work and closed a most delightful evening.

The entertainment was planned and directed by Mrs. Shelton, assisted by Mrs. Herman Troup.

The stage was handsomely set, the scenery being shifted by the following Masonic stage employees, who volunteered their services: W. H. Sorber, manager; William Kirkland, Ed Clark, Ed Bacon, Tom Hudson, William Odum, Grady Crawford and Jeff Eyster.

The pianos used were furnished without cost by J. A. Miller of the Cable-Shelby-Barton Piano Company. More than 800 tickets were sold.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our appreciation of the service rendered by the Boy Scouts, the Home Guard, the Junior Red Cross, the High School boys, W. H. Sorber, stage manager, and numerous others who in various way contributed to the success of the Fall Festival. All worked without compensation for the cause of the Red Cross.

Escaping German Prisoners Taken

Lieut. Hans Berg Recaptured as he Attempted to Cross into Mexico.

Laredo, Tex., Nov. 9.—Mistaking United States Customs Inspector, Ramsey for a cowboy led to miscarriage of plans to cross into Mexico here of Lieut. Hans Berg and Lieut. Alfred Loeschner, who, on October 23, escaped, with ten other Germans, from the internment camp at Fort McPherson, Ga. Both men today are under military guard at Fort McIntosh, Laredo.

After successfully eluding officers of several states in their twelve-hundred-mile journey, Berg and Loeschner had been in Laredo three days without exciting suspicion until yesterday when Customs Inspector Ramsey discovered them six miles below Laredo on the Rio Grande waving to a Mexican on the southern side of the river. The Germans, mistaking Ramsey for a cowboy, replying to a question as to what they wanted, said:

"We are German prisoners who escaped from Fort McPherson. We are trying to get across into Mexico and from there will return to Germany."

Ramsey was joined by Customs Inspector Chamberlain and the officers immediately placed Berg and Loeschner under arrest, brought them to Laredo and turned them over to an agent of the department of justice. Later they were turned over to the military authorities.

The prisoners, who were well supplied with money, calmly accepted arrest and reinternment. They said they hired a carriage yesterday morning and drove to the point at which they were arrested. They were signalling a Mexican to row them across the Rio Grande in a boat. The mounted inspectors not being in uniform, they said, caused them to lose their usual caution.
